The Government of India have approved an integrated policy on oilseeds production, import, distribution and pricing for accelerating self-reliance.

The State Government's cooperation has been sought in implementing the new elements of the strategy, particularly market intervention by National Dairy Development Board to ensure incentive prices to farmers and reasonable prices for consumers.

(c) The integrated policy has the following important elements:—

- support to farmers with technology inputs, etc. to increase production;
- review of Public Distribution prices; and
- procurement of domestically produced oilseeds/edible oils by National Dairy Development Board soon after harvest at incentive prices for building a buffer stock for release in the market in the lean season, to maintain prices within a prescribed price band NDDB will also receive a part of the imported edible oils for this purpose.

A part of the policy which was under implementation has already started showing results. A record
